Assault and Other Conduct that Threatens the Safety of Others

Summary/Purpose: To protect the campus community by prohibiting conduct threatening the safety of others.

Students have the responsibility to refrain from conduct which threatens or causes bodily harm to others. The University prohibits purposely, knowingly, or recklessly causing or attempting to cause bodily injury to another; purposely, knowingly, or recklessly placing another in fear of serious bodily harm; and intentional or negligent conduct that threatens or endangers the health or safety of any student, faculty, staff member, or guest of the University.

A student who is the victim of an alleged sexual offense may be granted changes in academic and living situations if such changes are reasonably available.
