Presentation of Identification
DSA.SC.200.001

Summary/Purpose: To provide students notice of their responsibility to present University identification to authorized University personnel upon request.

The University issues each student an identification card at the time of enrollment. This card is used to identify community members. Students may be asked to present their identification card to enter and/or participate in University sponsored events, and students must be in possession of their University identification card at all times.

Students at The University of Mississippi are required to present their University identification to authorized University personnel upon request. Examples of authorized University personnel include University police officers and Housing staff. Students who fail to present University identification to any University official may be subject to conduct action.

Any misuse of the identification card by its holder, or the use or attempted use by another person, may result in cancellation of privileges provided and conduct charges and proceedings.

The loss or theft of a student’s identification card should be reported immediately to the I.D. Center, and a substitute card will be issued (a fee may be charged for this service).
