Personal Long Distance Authorization Codes

Summary/Purpose: Defines the acquisition and use of a personal long distance authorization code.

A faculty or staff member can get a personal authorization code to make long distance calls. The long distance charges are processed through our accounting system and charges are automatically deducted from the paycheck. The personal authorization code can be obtained by submitting a request by SAP, by e-mail, or by sending a memo to the Telecommunications Center requesting the code. This code MUST NOT be used for University business. It is suggested that personal calls be made before or after normal working hours.

Departments can access the web site at https://teoffice.olemiss.edu and print out a copy of the monthly call detail for long distance calls. It is important that each individual check their listing to find out if they and not someone else made all calls on the report. If suspicion arises that an authorization code is being used illegally, please notify the Telecommunications Center immediately and it will be removed from service.

Personal authorization codes should be safeguarded. If you think that a code has been compromised, please contact the Telecommunications Center immediately. The code will be deactivated and a new one will be assigned.
