Implied Consent

Summary/Purpose: This policy explains the responsibility all students living in Student Housing have with regard to the activities that take place in their residence hall room or apartment. It is imperative that students work to ensure that no inappropriate or illegal activities take place in their room, whether or not they actively participate.

Students are responsible for all activities that occur in their residence hall room or apartment. By allowing the existence of behaviors or items that violate Residence Life or University policy, students demonstrate an implied consent for the violations. As a result students are responsible for taking an active role in ensuring that inappropriate behaviors or items do not exist in the residence hall room or apartment. Residents should report behaviors or items that violate residence hall or University policy to a staff member. Passive participation in events that violate University or Residence Life policy will be viewed as a policy violation.
