University Scholarship Appeal

Summary/Purpose: University Scholarship Appeal

University scholarships have various terms and conditions that must be met to retain eligibility. If a student fails to meet the stated terms and conditions, he/she may submit a Scholarship Appeal. The appeal should cite any special or mitigating circumstances he/she believes should be considered. Students can access the appeal form by going to my.olemiss.edu. Under the financial aid tab, select the Financial Aid Appeal Form. The Scholarship Appeal will be reviewed by the Scholarship Committee. If the Scholarship Appeal is successful, the student is placed on scholarship probation and allowed to receive the scholarship for one semester. Notification of a successful appeal will include academic requirements that must be met to receive the scholarship beyond the probation semester. If the Scholarship Appeal is denied, the scholarship will not be reinstated.

The Scholarship Appeal is different from the Satisfactory Academic Progress Appeal. If required, the forms must be filed separately.
