Departmental Time Record

Summary/Purpose: The qualifications for those employees whose time records must be retained and the retention rules are given.

Time records must be kept on all nonexempt University employees, student employees, and graduate students. Departmental Time Records should be retained for a period of seven years. The record should be made readily available for audit.